AURORA, SATURDAY, JUNE 10.

THE OREGON ELECTION.

A Surprise to the Most Sanguine Republicans—The Whole Ticket Elected.

The following dispatches were received in Washington City June 7th: The Republican Congressional Committee is especially pleased with the result in Oregon. It was a surprise to the most sanguine, and is accounted a harbinger of sure victory on the Pacific Coast. General Rosecrans said to-night that the dispatches received by the Democratic Congressional Committee from Oregon indicated a more favorable condition of affairs for the Democracy than any of the newspaper reports he had seen to-day. He did not question the fact of George's election, but thought everything else was in doubt. Ex-Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, received the following dispatch to-day from Portland, Oregon:

We carry the Legislature in Douglas and Tillamook, and now have no further doubt about a Republican majority on joint ballot. The whole Republican State ticket is elected. George's majority is about 2,500. (Signed) Chairman Republican State Central Committee.

Another dispatch says the Legislature is evidently Republican by two majorities. Returns from remote counties may increase it to six or seven. The line to Eastern Oregon is still down. Mail advices indicate that the Democratic majorities in that section will be smaller than usual, and yesterday's figures on the majority for the State Republican ticket are likely too low.

From time to time for some years past float rock, says the Homer Index rich in gold, has been found along the eastern slope of the high mountain range overhanging the western arm of Mone Lake, and at present that region is swarming with prospectors. One rich ledge has been found, above Wilson's (formerly Sim Baker's) ranch, and as the float ceases at about the same altitude all along the mountain prospectors feel confident that they will be able to find the main lode at several different points before the summer is over. Some of the float rock found is so rich in gold that it is suitable for the manufacture of jewelry.

"Gentlemen, I want to announce right here," he said, as he stood up and laid his hand on the shoulder of the sleeping car porter, "that this man is an honest fellow. In my absent-mindedness, a few minutes ago I gave him half a dollar for a quarter. He has returned it to me."

"Yes, sah—yes, sah," replied the porter, as he ducked his head and scraped his foot, "yes, sah, kase it got a hole in it, sah, an' I reckoned you was tryin' to beat me outer ten cents!"

A meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee is called for Saturday, July 8th, at the office of Chairman Deal in Virginia City, for the purpose of convoking a State Convention, selecting a place for the same and apportioning the delegates among the several counties.

The crop of gull eggs on the island in Mone Lake is small this season. The depredations on the birds' nests have probably caused them to seek some safer spot to rear their young.

There has been a rise in the price of copper in England, which is partly due to the belief that the extensive use of electricity will greatly increase the demand for that metal.

THE PROPRIETOR ANNOUNCES TO the citizens of Aurora, Bodie and surrounding country that he is now prepared to accommodate an unlimited number of guests. The curative qualities of the waters of these Springs are known far and near, particularly in cases of Rheumatism, Salt Rheum, Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Fever Sores, Secondary Syphilis, And Broken Down Constitutions, Gravel and Kidney Complaints, Catarrh in the Head Cured, Three Different Classes of Baths. Each bath combining the water of many springs with various degrees of temperature.

Take Chicago's stage to Wellington Station, thence to the Wells to these famous Springs. Board, Lodging and Baths, Per Week, $15.

A light two-horse spring wagon will be in waiting at Wellington Station every SATURDAY morning to convey guests to the Springs.

What Goeth on at Present.

And in these days there is sign and promise of spring throughout the earth, and the dealer layeth in his spring stock of goods, and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land, and the same is the variety of turtle known as the Baltimore terrapin; and he asketh a shekel and a-half by himself for the plate.

Likewise doth the strawberry short cake blossom forth in abbreviated hat boxes, and there is enough said in one strawberry to make an imitation brown stone front for a three-story house.

Furthermore there ariseth the woman who liveth in a flat, and she saith unto her husband: "Lo, now, I will have some flowers and plants and creeping things for to put upon the sill of my window, that I may make a fair showing to the passer-by. Go then, therefore, and buy me seeds, that when the spring time cometh, the desire of my heart may be gratified." And he goeth about and getteth her a catalogue with many chromos and much Latin therein, and she chooseth for herself the seeds of the bellis perennis and the eucalyptus longibardus, and the asteria Smithsonia and the wisteria Jonesia, and others of a like sort. And she setteth forth the seeds in pots, and day by day she watereth them.

And it shall come to pass that presently she sloppeth over with the water and watereth the woman in the flat below, and there is much wrath and strife in that building on account of that watering; and the infant son of the woman that watered is forbidden to play with the son of her that was watered, and he playeth, in despite of the injunction, and his mother hideth him; yea, verily, she weareth out her slipper upon him.

And in due season one of the flowers cometh up, and the same is a weed, and the husband of that woman jereth at her, and maketh sport of her conservatory. But she is strong in faith, and she pineth her hope on them that have not yet come up. And she pineth it there for many and many a weary day; but they come not up; nay, those pots are barren and arid as a bald head, and the seeds are dead within them. For peradventure the Latin names killed them.

And in the end it happeneth that one of those pots falleth down upon the head of a young man who goeth along the street clad in the raiment of spring, and made beautiful in the eyes of the young maidens. And it falleth upon his spring tile, and it knocketh that tile into everlasting smashness. And he is wroth exceedingly, and he taketh a bitter revenge.

For he taketh shekels of gold and shekels of silver, and he hireth him an artist with a hand organ, and that artist playeth in front of the house of that woman from nine of the morning unto nine of the night. And in course of time that woman taketh in the flower-pots, and is in her turn taken into the lunatic asylum. For that artist with the hand organ played "Spring, spring, beautiful spring," and the end thereof is not yet.

And now cometh around the man who taketh orders for ice, and he is meek and humble, and he speaketh persuasively, and he is an agreeable citizen. But, verily, I say unto you, when the summer cometh, that man will be as a ravening lion and as a raging whirlwind.

Now, also, the young man goeth privily by night on the Bowery Way, and he putteth up his ulster as a collateral, and with a part of the proceeds thereof he redeemeth his duster, that he pawned aforetime, when the winds of winter were upon him.

Now, also, the honest farmer who taketh boarders in the summer flieth the tickings of his mattresses with the straw that was in the barn during the winter season, and whereon the cows were wont to sleep. And likewise he lieth awake at night devising an advertisement for a lure and a snare for the innocent citizen.

And being glad with a great gladness for seeing marvelous gains, and in the joy of his heart he waxeth liberal, and giveth unto the wife of his bosom fifteen cents, the same to be invested in insect powder. For he saith: "Lo, no man shall complain of his lodgement, neither shall have any cause to be disgruntled. For I am a generous man, and a just man; and I do this thing not for profit, but for the good of mankind."

And now is there weeping and wailing and lamentation in the region of Shantytown; the Goat mourning for his provender and will not be comforted because it is not. For the season of the theaters and of the circus is well nigh over, and soon more there will be no more posters upon the fences, neither any dodgers upon the ash-barrels. And likewise the time of fresh vegetables is at hand and canned fruits will be as a drug in the market, and he will shortly have no tomato-can for desert to his modest meal, neither any sardine box for a relish. For I say unto you, spring cometh apace, and when she cometh she cometh all in a heap. Selah—Puck.

Kimball & Booker,

ESMERALDA HERALD.

AURORA, SATURDAY, JUNE 10.

Six Months.

John Andrews was last week sentenced to six months in the county jail, for cutting Fred. Booker in the head.

Not a Correspondent.

Dr. A. S. Richardson wishes us to state that he is not a correspondent of the HERALD, "Wyman" to the contrary notwithstanding.

Acquitted.

Eli Johl, who shot and killed his partner J. C. McDonald at Belleville Thursday morning of last week, had his examination at that place last Saturday and was acquitted.

Central Committee Meeting.

A call for the assembling of the Republican County Central Committee will be found in another place in today's HERALD. The meeting is to be held at Hawthorne, on Wednesday, July 12th.

To Locate in Bodie.

Dr. E. G. Winnie, who has been with us for the past month, has gone to Bodie to locate. Dr. Winnie is a good dentist, a pleasant companion and a gentleman of the first water. We commend him to the citizens of Bodie, and hope they will receive him kindly.

Back Again.

Angus McLeod returned from his ranch in Mason Valley the first of the week. He reports the grasshopper crop as prolific in some parts of the valley, but thinks that they belong to a tramp family, and as soon as they are able will migrate to other fields and pastures green.

New Volume.

The Candelaria True Fissure has entered upon the third year of its existence. J. M. Dormer, editor and proprietor, has made the paper second to no weekly paper in the State. We hope the True Fissure will live a thousand years, and be a paying paper.

A Handsome Picture.

Yesterday Ike Levy received a handsome picture, a group of cousins living in San Francisco, consisting of B. Levy, Daniel Levy, Isaac Levy, Michel Levy, Mrs. Cahen, Mrs. N. Levy, and Mrs. Flashman. It was sent as a present from Borish Levy, and Ike appreciates the gift very much.

The Concert.

Mrs. W. C. Lawrence's concert has been set for next Tuesday evening, the 13th. The entertainment is given for her benefit, and as she is a deserving lady we have no doubt everybody will attend. The programme will consist of choruses, singing, recitations, etc., to wind up with a dance, if music can be procured. Prices of Admission: Ladies, 50 cents; gentlemen $1.

School to Close.

The Trustees of Aurora school have concluded to give the children a vacation during the months of July and August, those months being usually too warm for the children to study, and it is customary all over the coast to have vacation during those months. Beside we have had school for seven months steady and the scholars need a rest.

Three Fishers.

John Neidy, Hank Jewett and John Vernon went to Elbow fishing, but for some reason didn't fish; or, if they did they didn't catch any fish. They killed about 100 doves, drank up 200 quart bottles of whisky, ate Dennis Higgins out of house and home, chewed up 100 papers of solace tobacco, was only gone three days, and came home happy and not fatigued from their exertions.

Inyo County Items.

The Modock furnace is running steadily.

Beveridge District has a number of men at work in it.

The Laura mill—four stamps—in Saline Valley is completed.

The Rex Monthis mill has been running on tailings with good results.

Inyo county has more mills and furnaces at present than for years past. This is one of the good signs.

A. A. Riddle, W. T. Grant and others have a mine at the foot of the mountain in Saline Valley that promises well. Thirty tons of ore are to be packed to the Keeler mill thirty miles distant.

You will never have a sour stomach if you drink Damiana Bitters.

A Home for Six Years.

Last Sunday James S. Mooney left here for the State Prison—that is we don't mean to say that James has gone there to stay, but—Oh, hang it! The fact of the matter is that J. S. took Jim Yuen, a Chinaman with nimble fingers, who was last week convicted and sentenced to a six years residence in that institution, and Jim landed Jim at Jim's future home safe and sound. Afterward Jim went off to the State Capitol to view the Democratic outlook with his weather eye on the comfortable rooms occupied by the State Controller. We would like to see Mr. Mooney get the Democratic nomination for the office.

Sure cure for dyspepsia—Damiana Bitters.

LITTLE RACKETS.

S. M. Booker took in Sweetwater this week.

The daily Carson Bee has suspended publication.

The County Commissioners advertise for bids to fix the East Walker River bridge.

S. A. Knapp, the merchant prince of Hawthorne and Luning, was in Aurora Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McIntosh and Mrs. W. C. Lawrence paid Hawthorne a visit Tuesday.

J. A. Luttie, agent for Chas. Krug's famous Napa Valley wines, visited Bodie this week.

Roland Cutts and Robert McElroy have gone to Candelaria to take in the prospective boom.

Wm. Little, who was stricken with paralysis at Clinton last week, died at that place last Thursday.

Superintendent H. G. Blased went to San Francisco Tuesday. He will probably be gone a couple of weeks.

Henry Williams, of Sweetwater, was in town today. He says everything is going to boom in Paterson District this Summer.

Alex. McLeod and Agnes King have united their future fortunes and settled down on their ranch near the pleasant town of Greenfield.

Mrs. Belle Sullivan arrived from Smartsville, California, last Saturday on a visit to her folks—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cowenover and family.

The Indian Queen mining suit has occupied the attention of the Court all this week, and will probably not end until the middle of next week.

P. M. Bowler, Jr., of the firm of Currier & Bowler, attorneys at Belmont, Nye county, Nevada, has gone home. Mr. Bowler tarried with us about a month, and made many friends.

R. H. Stevens, for a long time employed in the Bank Exchange saloon here, and also at the Exchange Hotel, but who has been visiting in California for several months, returned here Thursday.

Ed. Haines, formerly telegraph operator here, but now in charge of the Bridgeport office, paid Aurora a visit Thursday, and left yesterday for Candelaria on business connected with the N. & C. Telegraph Company.

S. W. Lewis, of New York, who is interested in mining property in this camp, arrived from New York last Friday and left for San Francisco Tuesday. Mr. Lewis remarked while in Aurora that he was going to make the place assume a lively appearance before very long.

"There May be Eyes as Brightly Beaming," but we doubt if it is possible to write a sweeter or prettier song than one bearing the above name that has just been sent to us by the publishers, Sherman, Clay & Co., San Francisco. The music is arranged by H. M. Bosworth, the song being the same as sung by Mr. Digby Bell, in the original key of B flat. The price, post-paid, is only 25 cents.

Smith Valley News.

Following is the roll of honor of the Smith Valley school, Miss Sprague Teacher, and other items of interest:

John Pierce, 94; Effie Rivers, 100; Gerlie Bowman, 94; Celia Huber, 96; Mary Hutson, 96; Fannie Hutson, 96; Dwight Smith, 94; James Smith, 95; Fred. Schooley, 100; Ida Rogers, 100; Ed. Whiting, 93; Orne Whiting, 95.

Mrs. A. S. Richardson, of Mason Valley, and Miss Mudd, of Gold Hill, have been visiting our school.

On the evening of the 2d quite a gathering of young folks assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hinds to enjoy the festivities in honor of the sixteenth birthday of their daughter May. The young lady was the recipient of a number of beautiful presents. Prof. Needles entertained the guests for a short time. A fine collation was spread, and excellent music was furnished by the Erway Bros. of Mason Valley. Dancing was kept up to an early hour, and all departed wishing the young lady that the period of sweet sixteen would be one of the brightest of her life.

Smith's Valley has recently been visited by several severe showers. One on the 30th of May caused an overflow of all the main ditches. Quite a wash-out occurred in the large ditch above the school-house, and the volume of water was of sufficient force to wash out part of the stones from the foundation. No serious damage was done. West Walker is level with its banks. Cattle men experienced great difficulty in crossing with their cattle at the recent rodeo.

DEATH OF J. M. MEREDITH.

An Old 49er Passes Over to the Great Beyond.

Last Wednesday morning a few moments before 11 o'clock Albert Mack went to the room of J. M. Meredith, thinking that there was something wrong as the latter was not in the habit of laying in bed so late, and there found him dead. The body was in a kneeling position beside the bed, with one arm supporting the head, while the other rested on the bed, showing that there had been no struggle as the spirit left the body to ascend to its Maker. Corner McKinlay held an inquest over the body, eliciting the fact that the deceased died of heart disease. James M. Meredith crossed the plains the first time in 1849, arriving at Sacramento. He spent two years in the neighborhood of Sacramento gardening, and then returned to his home in Pennsylvania. In 1852 he again came overland. In 1854 Mr. Meredith went to Sonora, Tuolumne county, Cal. There he was City Marshal, and held other positions of trust and honor. From Sonora he went to Oak Flat and went into the employ of the Golden Rock Water Company, Albert Mack, Superintendent. In 1860 Mr. Meredith went to the Mono placer diggings, near Bridgeport, and engaged in mining. He came to Aurora the same year and remained here until 1864. In that year he took his much talked of trip through the lower part of California. In 1866 he returned to Aurora and took charge of the postoffice here, and entered into the mercantile business with O. Kimball. He continued in the postoffice and the store until 1877, when he resigned the position of Postmaster and Kimball & Meredith sold the store to Booker & Dunlap, and retired from active business. In 1876 he accompanied Mrs. Albert Mack, Mrs. Piessnecker and Miss Meyers to the Centennial Exhibition. J. M. Meredith was until the past few years an active man and took great interest in the welfare of the communities in which he lived. He was a member of the California Society of Pioneers. He leaves two brothers, Thomas Meredith, now in Los Angeles, and W. C. Meredith, living at Coalton, Boyd county, Kentucky, and who was a resident of Aurora in the early and palmy days, to mourn his death. The funeral took place from Wingate Hall Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Judge D. J. Lewis made a few very appropriate remarks over the remains, and the choir, consisting of Judge T. H. Wells, Austin Hull, M. M. Glenn, Mrs. I. Levy, Mrs. S. G. Cobb, and Mrs. M. M. Glenn, organist, rendered some pieces fitted to the occasion. Judge W. M. Seawell adjourned Court to allow those in attendance to be present at the last sad rites. The funeral cortege was the largest we have seen here for years. All the business houses were closed. The pall-bearers were all 49ers, six in number, Albert Mack, Wm. Witherell, E. B. Gallagher, H. W. Barton, W. J. Vernon, and T. H. Wells. At the request of deceased, his remains were placed beside those of his old friend and mining partner Capt. Hawkins in the cemetery. James M. Meredith was a man of sterling qualities, strictly honest, kind, generous to a fault, of a cheerful and happy disposition, and he had many warm friends all over the United States who will sorrow to hear of his death. If he had a single enemy among his numerous old acquaintances in Aurora, we were not aware of the fact. We do not hesitate to say that among the many old and good residents of Aurora, none would have been missed more than will Jas. M. Meredith, and the writer hereof joins with those who are left to struggle with the vicissitudes of this life a few days longer in the throng of mourners for the good man who has "Only Gone Before."

Why weep for friends who've gone before,
Whose lease of life is ended?
They're now with God forever more,
And with his spirit blended.

No more the sorrows of this life
Will have for them a meaning.
No more for them is aught but strife,
The harvest after gleaming.

We miss them from their "customed place,
For they can fill it only;
We miss their voice, their cheery face,
Their absence makes us lonely.

But we must feel 'tis for the best,
That God is with us dealing;
And though he may be sorely test,
He always gives the healing.

Gubernatorial Candidates.

So far there are only six gubernatorial candidates in the field—three Republicans and three Democrats. The former are represented by the present incumbent of the office, J. H. Kinkadee, Hon. R. M. Daggett, and Hon. W. R. King; and the latter are represented by Lieutenant Governor Adams, George T. Mayre and Capt. Matt. Canavan.

An Unlucky Shot.

Last Saturday D. Perrier brought a man by the name of Davis up from Candelaria and lodged him in jail. Davis discharged his pistol in the streets of that town, but was unlucky and didn't hit anybody. Now it he had got his man, things might have been different. He is to board with Robb for fifty days.

MASON VALLEY LETTER.

A Budget of News From Our Correspondent "Wyman."

PIZEN SWITCH, Mason Valley, June 7th, 1882.

EDITOR HERALD:—We are having extremely warm weather these days, almost to suffocation. Well, one extreme follows another. First it is cold, cold, then hot, hotter, hottest. And whether hot or cold people will grumble and find fault, but the world moves just the same and everything comes around for the best, showing that the Great Ruler of the Universe governs at least as well as man could. For the past week most every afternoon showers accompanied with hail, thunder and lightning have visited portions of the valley and surrounding foothills. The warm weather makes everything in the way of vegetation spring forth with a rush, and before we are aware of it haying will be upon us. Alfalfa, though backward, looks promising and no doubt there will be a large cut.

Grain is also backward, but with favorable weather a good yield is anticipated.

The grasshopper scare is growing less as the spring advances. The majority of our farmers believe they will sustain no great loss by them. A few days since Wyman was on the ranch of A. J. Barrett, some six miles south of this place, where the 'hoppers were very numerous. It looked to us as though there was enough of them on this ranch to clean everything out of the valley in twenty-four hours if they should turn themselves loose. At that time they were about half an inch long. It is said they grow very rapidly and do the most damage while growing, but notwithstanding their vast numbers it is believed the crop will outgrow the 'hoppers. I believe they work mostly on the alfalfa, without materially injuring the grain.

Mr. Frank Clugage of the U. S. State Company is here looking after the stock of the company, having large numbers of them shod, and otherwise preparing to move them to other localities. And thus they go—the iron horses taking the place of the stage coach.

Five large teams belonging to Travis pulled out one day last week for Truckee, to engage in hauling lumber. The outfit consisted of some fifteen large wagons, sixty horses and mules and ten men. When moving away they had the appearance of a large caravan and quite depopulated our town.

The warm weather of the past few days has melted the snow on the mountains, causing the river to rise, quite overflowing its banks. We hear no complaint about lack of water these days.

Two of our citizens, with their families and household goods, Joe Williams and Wm. Barnes have left us to make their fortunes in Sweetwater, locating at Clinton.

Miss Madigan, from Virginia City, passed through town last week on her way to Pine Grove, where she has been engaged to teach. It seems Gold Hill and Virginia supplies this section with teachers. Yes, and good ones at that.

School Matters.

Mining Matters.

The past week has been an active one in our district. On Monday there were deeds recorded which transferred from W. P. McIntosh, of Aurora, to E. W. and Samuel Lewis, of New York, one-eighth of the Silver Hill Consolidated, one-fourth of the Cornish, and one-eighth of the Parnells, all in Esmeralda Mining District. The consideration being fifty thousand dollars. Mr. Lewis purchased the control of Thanksgiving from Mr. McIntosh while he was in New York last fall. He has, besides all this, taken an option on the Lewis Consolidated, and commenced work with a force of good miners taking out ore. W. P. McIntosh, who superintends the work, informs us that the property opens up much better than he represented—better than the most sanguine could expect, and invited our mining reporter to visit the workings before our next issue, when he agrees to show him some of the richest gold ore this district ever produced.

The Virginia Enterprise of this week has this: The Humboldt Hill Mill and Mining Company, situated at Aurora, in this State, shipped to there office in San Francisco last week three bars of gold bullion, weighing 487½ ounces, the result of the first clean up. The ore from this run was taken from the Humboldt West, the principal mine belonging to their company. The ore is not of high grade on the surface, but so far as prospected has improved materially as they go down. Their ledge crops for a distance of 1,200 feet or more, and in places fifteen feet above the surface of the ground, and is more than twenty feet in width, and in character resembles strongly the ores of the famous Standard mine in Bodie it being a ribbon or laminated ore. Their mill of twenty stamps is of the most substantial character, being built of brick with heavy stone foundations, and is 132 feet in length by fifty four ft in width, with an L-fifty-four by thirty-two feet.

THE MORTUARY ARTIST.

A Comstock Undertaker Who Made a Bad Guess.

Undertaking is a disagreeable business, but there is lots of money in it. A solid rosewood coffin built of redwood at a cost of a few dollars is disposed of to an afflicted family for a sum so large as to absorb the entire property of a deceased person and leave nothing for his heirs. For that reason the enterprising undertaker is on the lookout for business. He attends church, and keenly surveys the faces of the congregation with a critical eye. When prayer is requested by solicitous friends of a sick person for restoration to health, the undertaker "coppers" the invocation, and slipping away nimble, deftly tucks his business card under the door of the invalid. He is jolly when pneumonia gallops through a community, and howls with delight, over a wholesale railroad accident. He can diagnose a case of physical degeneracy of any kind with unerring certainty at a distance of fifty feet. He will look at a man in the incipient stages of consumption and appoint his funeral to the day and hour, and the corpse is generally ready. He knows the dimensions of every man in the community and the coffin he furnishes are always guaranteed to fit, so that the defunct customer can rest without danger of contracting chafes and bunions. But the far-seeing undertaker sometimes gets fooled, like ordinary people. For instance: When it was reported on the Comstock that a number of men were imprisoned in a drift in the Alta mine, and were dead to a certainty, a Virginia undertaker telegraphed to San Francisco for six coffins, to be sent up by express in hot haste. The caskets arrived in Reno Friday morning and were immediately shipped to Virginia. When the undertaker heard that the men in the drift were not dead, he was doubtless stirred with tumultuous reflections over the reckless expense he had incurred in anticipation of a harvest of fat fees which he did not get.—Reno Gazette.

Wm. Adams, Jr., has not returned to San Jose yet.

John Kelly, of Bodie, has been with us this week.

The dragging of the Indian Queen suit has been our gain, as it has kept John Howell, Supt. Cary, Put. Yancy, and Hugh Jones, all pleasant gentlemen, with us so much longer.

Board and Lodging.

A limited number of persons can be furnished with first-class accommodations, board or lodging, by applying to Mrs. Hickman. Residence, near Exchange Hotel, Aurora.

Damiana Bitters makes the old young and strong.

The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons will meet in Virginia city next Monday, June 12, and the Grand Lodge of Masons will meet in Carson the next day, June 13.
